publicjobs is committed to a policy of equal opportunity and encourage applications under all nine grounds of the employment equality act.

publicjobs is the centralised independent recruitment provider for the Civil and Public Service and will conduct the selection process for this competition.

publicjobs and employing Departments/Offices will run this competition in compliance with the Code of Practice for appointment to positions in the civil service and public service, prepared by the Commission for Public Service Appointments (CPSA) and available on www.cpsa.ie.

publicjobs refers to Public Appointments Service established under the Public Service Management (Recruitment and Appointments) Acts 2004-2013.

Introduction

The Civil Service is at the heart of Irish society. Everything we do impacts our country, and most importantly, our people. We are a robust and trusted institution, which has served the people of Ireland since the foundation of the State. While the challenges which face the Civil Service today are different to those faced at the foundation of the State, our core values remain the same.

The Civil Service is a large complex organisation employing over 50,000 people in approximately 40 Government Departments and offices and a range of other bodies. Every day the Civil Service makes a vital contribution to Irish life. Everything the Civil Service does, from carrying out the work of Government to delivering frontline public services, impacts Ireland in some way.

The Role

The Administrative Officer (AO) is the main graduate recruitment grade for the Civil Service and provides successful candidates with the opportunity to progress to middle management. As an AO, you would have a crucial role in policy and strategy formulation across the spectrum of economic, financial, international, environmental and social issues. Those appointed will have the opportunity to effect real change in the Civil Service and help shape a changing Ireland. You will also have the opportunity to gain a deep understanding of the development and implementation of government policy over a period of time.

As the business, economic and social environment becomes more complex and demanding, there is an increasing need to ensure that a wider range of skills is available within Government Departments and Offices. publicjobs is looking for people with the potential to take on high level responsibilities in the management of public services and the analysis of public policy issues, and who possess particular qualifications, skills and capability in the following areas:

- 1: Energy, Environment and Climate
- 2: Finance Policy
- 3: Health Policy Analyst
- 4: Human Resources

To apply, candidates must satisfy the essential entry requirements specific to the specialist role for which they are applying. Please see page 5 for further details. In addition to having achieved the essential entry requirements, effective AO candidates must demonstrate:

- Excellent communication (oral and written), presentation and interpersonal skills
- The ability to carry out research, analysis and problem solving
- Experience of effective team-working and the capacity to work in a multidisciplinary environment
- The ability to develop leadership capability and lead in your area of expertise
- The ability to show initiative while working with minimal supervision
- Evidence of working on projects and producing results within budget and specified deadlines.
- Evidence of meeting the requirements set out in the Administrative Officer Capability Framework

It is expected that from the outset, newly recruited AOs will be able to make a substantive contribution to the work of the Civil Service. While training is to a significant extent “on the job”, induction and training courses in specific skills and areas of work will be provided to assist you to become familiar with the public sector. Those appointed will have the opportunity to undertake the Graduate Development Programme which will build upon your experience to further develop your expertise, confidence, self-awareness and personal effectiveness to enable you to realise your potential and deliver important outcomes early in your career. It is envisaged that these graduate recruitment opportunities will arise across a range of Departments.

Selection for the position of AO involves a structured assessment process that may take place over a period of time. publicjobs will keep applicants informed as they progress through the selection process. Relevant information on each subsequent stage of the selection process will be provided in advance to those candidates who are invited to progress, to ensure they are equipped to perform to the best of their ability.

The Administrative Officer Capability Framework \(click here to view\) will inform the assessment of candidates at all stages. Further information on the Capability Framework for the Administrative Officer role is set out in Appendix 1. In addition, specific essential entry requirements for each of the specialist roles being recruited are set out in more detail on page 5 of this booklet.

The onus is on the candidate to ensure that they satisfy the essential entry requirements for the specialist role for which they are applying. Candidates are required to confirm at application stage that they hold the required qualifications by the deadline specified. Admission to the competition does not imply acceptance that a candidate is eligible to compete in the competition.

Vacancies

Candidates who are successful in this competition, will be placed on a panel, in order of merit to fill current and future vacancies which may arise. As vacancies arise in Government Departments / Offices, in an 'agency' of a Government Department or in Garda civilian positions in An Garda Síochána, successful candidates will be drawn from the panel in rank order, according to their performance score at the final stage.

The majority of vacancies that arise for this competition will be based in Dublin, however a small number may also arise in other regional locations throughout the lifetime of the competition. Successful candidates must be willing to accept a position in Dublin. If you are offered a position (whether you accept or not) you will, in the normal course, no longer be considered for any other vacancy in this competition.

In the unlikely event that a vacancy in a regional location arises, candidates will be contacted to establish their interest in such a vacancy.

It is not expected that appointments will be made from these panels after January 2028.

How to Apply

Applications should be made online through www.publicjobs.ie.

At publicjobs, we have transitioned to a new recruitment platform with the aim of enhancing our services and the candidate experience. The new service will give you more visibility and control of your application.

When accessing our new recruitment platform for the first time, candidates must register as a New User to create a profile ("Register"). To do so, please access the vacancy you wish to apply for on our Jobs Board by clicking on the title of the position. You will be brought to the vacancy where you can click on "Apply" in the right-hand section of our website, or at the bottom of the advertisement. Candidates who have not previously registered on our new recruitment platform will be required to enter some personal details to continue with their application. Account verification will be required, and you must check your email inbox and follow the instructions to verify your account. Please do not confuse registering (creating a profile) with submitting an application. Candidates who have already registered will have an account and should select 'Login' from the top right-hand section of the registration page or through the link at the bottom of the page.

Once registered and after your email address has been verified, you must then access the application form, ensure all sections of the application form are fully completed and submit it.

To do this, you will be required to return to the vacancy you wish to apply for – Graduate Opportunities 2026 Administrative Officer Specialist – on the jobs board on www.publicjobs.ie and click on "Apply". This time, you should select the "Login" option in the top right-hand section of the Login Page. Your username is the e-mail address associated with your account. Please note that your username and password are case sensitive.

Please carefully note the following instructions. As you progress through the application, at the bottom of every page, there will be an option to "Save and Continue". The information that you enter is only saved once you click on the 'Save and Continue' button. If you close the browser before clicking 'Save and Continue' or are inactive on the system for 30 minutes or more, you may be logged out of the application form and your information could be lost.

It is imperative that all sections of this application form are completed in full. The mandatory fields are marked with an asterisk *. These fields must be completed before you can submit the application form. You may save the form and come back to it later, however, please note that you must submit the form in order to be considered for this competition as unsubmitted applications will not progress to the next stage.

All sections on the application form Progress Tracker must show a green checkmark before you can apply. Return to any section on the Progress Tracker missing a green checkmark where guidance on the missing information will be displayed. Please ensure all information is correct before submitting your application as no changes can be made after submission. Once you have submitted your application form, you will be brought to a page confirming the status of your application as "Application received". You can view the status of your application at any time by logging in, selecting your name in the top right-hand section of the page and selecting “View all applications”. At this point you should consider adding @publicjobs.tal.net to your safe senders or contact list within your email account to avoid not receiving emails because a publicjobs email has been blocked.

Only fully completed and submitted applications will be accepted into the competition. The admission of a person to the competition, or invitation to undertake any element of the selection process is not to be taken as implying that publicjobs or any other body is satisfied that such a person fulfils the requirements.

Visit the Help Centre if you have questions or encounter technical difficulties navigating the site.

Only one application per person is permitted.

Candidates are not permitted to withdraw and resubmit their application.

Candidates with Disabilities – Reasonable Accommodations for the Selection Process

publicjobs has a key role to play in attracting candidates from all sectors of society, ensuring that routes to career opportunities are accessible to all who are interested. We are committed to equality of opportunity for all candidates.

If you have a disability or need reasonable accommodations made during the selection process, we strongly encourage you to share this with us so that we can ensure you get the support you need.

Please note, this relates only to the selection process (e.g. online tests, interviews, etc.) and not workplace accommodations.

Reasonable accommodation in our selection process refers to adjustments and practical changes which would enable a disabled candidate to have an equal opportunity for this competition. Examples of adjustments we provide include the use of assistive technology, extra time, scribes and/or readers or a range of other accommodations. Please be assured that having a disability or requiring adjustments will not impact on your progress in the selection process; you will not be at a disadvantage if you disclose your disability or requirements to us. Your disability and/or adjustments will be kept entirely confidential.

Should you be successful, the disclosure of a disability for this stage of the process will not be passed onto the employing department unless you request that we do so.

If you have indicated on your application/profile that you require reasonable accommodations, you should upload a copy of your psychologist/medical report directly to your online application before submitting your application. You are required to include a copy of your medical/psychologist report before the closing date of the competition (3pm on Tuesday 13th October 2026). Please do not email a copy of your report to the recruitment unit mailbox.

The purpose of the report is to provide publicjobs with information to act as a basis for determining reasonable accommodations, where appropriate. The information within these reports that is useful for us to see includes the outcome of any diagnostic tests conducted by your psychologist/doctor, and their summary of recommendations in relation to your requirements. You may redact (block out) parts of medical reports/psychologist's reports that you feel are sensitive or unnecessary for the decision to make reasonable adjustments.

If you have previously applied for a competition with publicjobs and submitted a report (within the past 3 years), there will be an area on the online application where you can provide details of the previous competition and/or your previous candidate ID number. A member of the Assessment Services unit will check if your report is still on file (if you consented to this information being retained).

If you have any queries about the reasonable accommodations process or the accommodations you have received, or if you have any difficulty with sourcing your medical/psychologist report by the closing date, please contact ASU@publicjobs.ie. For further information on the accessibility of our service please see our Accessibility page.

If you wish to discuss any matter relating to the accessibility of our service or our building, please contact our Disability Champion, Amanda Kavanagh, at edi@publicjobs.ie.

Closing Date

The closing date for receipt of completed applications is 3pm on Tuesday 13th October 2026.

Candidates are strongly advised to not wait until near the closing date and time to submit their application. Therefore, the onus is on you to ensure that you have given yourself enough time to correctly submit a completed application form as any requests to submit an application after the closing time/date will not be considered.

If you do not receive an acknowledgement of receipt of your application within 24 hours of applying, please email largevolumerecruitment5@publicjobs.ie.

You are advised to check your publicjobs.ie Application Centre on a regular basis as email notifications of updates/tests/Interviews etc. issued to the “Review Communications” area can sometimes be filtered into your Junk/Spam email folders. You are also advised to check all these folders regularly.

The onus is on each candidate to ensure that they are in receipt of all communication from publicjobs. publicjobs accept no responsibility for communication not accessed or received by the candidate. Candidates should make themselves available on the date(s) specified by publicjobs and should make sure that the contact details specified on the application form are correct. If you do not attend on the specified date/time you will be deemed withdrawn from the competition.

Selection Process

The selection process for this competition will comprise a number of elements. These may include one or more of the following:

- Completion of an online Assessment Questionnaire
- Online and/or paper-based assessment test(s)
- Shortlisting of candidates on the basis of the information contained in their application against set criteria based on the requirements of the position
- An online video interview
- Competitive Interview(s)
- Presentation/Analysis exercise
- Work sample test
- Any other tests or exercises that may be deemed appropriate, including language proficiency tests publicjobs has the discretion to add, remove or amend selection stages and assessments, at any point, as necessary.

Applicants must successfully complete each stage of the selection process, in order to be considered for advancement to the next stage of the multistage selection process. The number of candidates to be invited forward at each stage will be determined from time to time by publicjobs.

Please note: If publicjobs is not notified of any issues you experience in advance of or on the day of your assessments/interview, we will not be in a position to address these after the fact.

Stage 1: Online Assessment

The initial stage of the selection process will be an online assessment. Online assessments may be taken in a venue of your choice, wherever you have access to a computer and a reliable internet connection.

It is important to note that taking these assessments within a secure IT network e.g. a network such as your work or college which may have firewalls or other security technology in place may cause you technical difficulties. You should ensure that you can complete the assessments in a quiet environment where you can concentrate without being disturbed for the duration of the assessments. It is advised to take the assessments on a device that you are familiar with.

Candidates invited to complete the online assessment(s) will be sent a familiarisation booklet, with more information and preparation guidelines.

It is important to note that the email address you provide when applying must be one that you can access at all times. Candidates will be given specific time windows in which to complete the assessments. A link(s) to the actual online assessments will be sent to candidates' portals on publicjobs.ie in advance of the test-taking window. Candidates who have not completed all of the online assessments before the deadline will be deemed to be no longer interested in this competition and their application will receive no further consideration.

Your attention is drawn to Appendix 2 'Important Information'. If invited to progress through the selection process, a candidate may be required to sit tests in a supervised environment.

publicjobs has no function or involvement in the provision of, and does not endorse, any preparation courses relating to the selection process.

Stage 2: Interview & Exercise

Stage 2 of the selection process requires you to complete a Capability-Based Interview and a Practical Exercise. Further details, including familiarisation material and preparation guidelines, will be provided in advance of this stage, for those invited to progress.

Shortlisting

The number of applications received for a position generally exceeds that required to fill existing and future vacancies. While a candidate may meet the eligibility requirements of the competition, if the numbers applying are such that it would not be practical to interview everyone, publicjobs may decide that a smaller number will be invited to the next stage of the selection process.

publicjobs provide for the employment of a shortlisting process to select a group who, based on an examination of the application forms, appear to be the most suitable for the position. This is not to suggest that other candidates are necessarily unsuitable or incapable of undertaking the job, rather that there are some candidates, who based on their application, appear to be better qualified and/or have more relevant experience. During shortlisting, an expert board will examine the application forms against agreed shortlisting criteria which are based on the requirements of the position. The standard of content of each application submitted may also be assessed during this process. The shortlisting criteria may include both essential and desirable criteria specified for the position and, it is therefore in your own interest to provide a detailed and accurate account of your qualifications/experience in your application. The onus is on candidates to complete the application form fully and accurately.

In the case of competitions that may involve large numbers of candidates, candidates may be ranked on the outcome of their online assessment tests and will be shortlisted in accordance with their ranking. Applicants must successfully compete and be placed highest, to be considered for advancement to the next stage of the multistage selection process. The number to be invited forward at each stage will be determined from time to time by publicjobs.

Next Steps

Should you come under consideration to proceed to subsequent stages of the selection process, further information will be forwarded to you at the appropriate time.

Positions Requiring Specialist Irish language Skills

The Civil Service is fully committed to fulfilling its obligations under the Official Languages Act. It is intended that any vacancies arising, which require staff to provide a full range of services through the Irish language (Functional Bilinguals), may be filled from this competition. In this regard individuals who have proficiency in the Irish language and who fulfil all other essential eligibility requirements as set out may indicate their interest on the application form.

Candidates who indicate their interest in Irish-Language positions and who are successful at all selection stages will be required to undergo certain assessments though Irish (e.g. interview, written test, etc.) at an external assessment centre, prior to being considered for such a position. They must achieve the required level in the Irish language, i.e. demonstrate a minimum Level B2 on the Europass self-assessment framework.

Important notice for existing civil servants

Existing eligible civil servants that apply for and are successful in this competition should note that in the event that they decide to accept an offer of assignment as an Administrative Officer from a panel established under this or any other competition that they will no longer be eligible to compete in, or be placed from, an internal or interdepartmental promotional civil service competition for the grade of Higher Executive Officer or equivalent grade.

Review and Complaint Procedures under the Code of Practice for Appointments to Positions in the Civil and Public Service

If a candidate is unhappy following the outcome of any stage of a selection process, they can either:

1. Request a Review of a decision made during the process
- Or
2. Make a Complaint that the selection process followed was unfair

A candidate can follow either one of the two procedures in relation to the same aspect of a selection process, but not both. Where a review of a selection process has taken place under Section 7 (as detailed below), a complainant may not seek a further review of the same process under Section 8, other than in the most exceptional circumstances that will be determined by the Commission for Public Service Appointments (CPSA) at its sole discretion.

There is no obligation on publicjobs to suspend an appointment process while a Review or Complaint is being considered. However, the CPSA expects that, where possible, publicjobs will intervene in cases where it finds an error is likely to have occurred.

Requesting a Review under Section 7

A request for review may be taken by a candidate should they be dissatisfied with an action or decision taken by publicjobs. publicjobs will consider requests for review in accordance with the provisions of Section 7 of the Code of Practice for Appointments to Positions in the Civil and Public Service published by the CPSA.

When making a request for a review, the candidate must support their request by outlining the facts they believe show that the action taken or decision reached was wrong. A request for review may be refused if the candidate cannot support their request.

The Informal Review will consist of a desk-based examination of any available information in relation to the recruitment process and the decision taken regarding the candidate's application. The outcome of the Informal Review Process will be communicated to the requester in writing.

- A request for Informal Review must be made within 5 working days of notification of the decision, and will normally take place between the candidate and a representative of publicjobs who had played a key role in the administration of the selection process.

- Where a candidate remains dissatisfied following any such informal communication, they may adopt the formal procedures set out below.

A request for Formal Review must be made within 5 working days of either the notification of the selection decision, or the notification of the outcome of the Informal Review process. Any extension of these time limits will only be granted in the most exceptional of circumstances and will be at the sole discretion of the Chief Executive.

- The candidate must address their concerns in relation to the process in writing to the Chief Executive (via email to ceomailbox@publicjobs.ie, or in writing to Chief Executive Officer, publicjobs, Chapter House, 26/30 Abbey Street Upper, Dublin 1), outlining the facts that they believe show an action taken or decision reached was wrong.
- The Formal Review will be conducted by a person who is completely independent of the selection process
- The outcome of the Formal Review must generally be notified to the candidate within 25 working days of receipt of the request for review. If the investigation does not produce a decision within this time, publicjobs must keep the candidate informed of the status of the review and the reasons for the delay.

Making a Complaint under Section 8

A candidate may believe there was a breach of the Commission's Code of Practice by publicjobs that may have compromised the integrity of the decision reached in the appointment process. The complaints process enables candidates to make a complaint under Section 8 to publicjobs in the first instance, and to the Commission for Public Service Appointments subsequently on appeal if they remain dissatisfied.

On foot of a Section 8 Complaint process, either publicjobs or the CPSA may find that the recruitment and selection process in question has not adhered to the standard set out in the Code of Practice. In such cases, publicjobs and the CPSA may make recommendations in order to prevent such issues from reoccurring again in the future. The CPSA cannot instruct publicjobs to reverse a decision taken in the course of an appointment process. Any candidate wishing for an investigation into the decision taken regarding their application as part of a selection process should request a Review under Section 7, as outlined above.

The complainant must outline the facts that they believe show that the process followed was wrong. The complainant must also identify the aspect of the Code they believe has been infringed and enclose any relevant documentation that may support the allegation. A complaint may be dismissed if they the complainant cannot support their allegations by setting out how publicjobs has fallen short of the principles of this Code.

The Informal Complaint will consist of a desk-based examination of any available information in relation to the recruitment process. The outcome of the Informal Complaint will be communicated to the requester in writing.

- An Informal Complaint must be made within 5 working days of notification of the decision, and will normally take place between the candidate and a representative of publicjobs who had played a key role in the administration of the selection process.
- Where a candidate remains dissatisfied following any such informal communication, they may adopt the formal procedures set out below.

A Formal Complaint must be made within 5 working days of either the notification of the selection decision, or the notification of the outcome of the Informal Complaint. Any extension of these time limits will only be granted in the most exceptional of circumstances and will be at the sole discretion of the Chief Executive.

- The candidate must address their concerns in relation to the process in writing to the Chief Executive (via email to ceomailbox@publicjobs.ie, or in writing to Chief Executive Officer, publicjobs, Chapter House, 26/30 Abbey Street Upper, Dublin 1), outlining the facts that they believe show an action taken or decision reached was wrong.
- The Formal Complaint will be investigated by a person who is completely independent of the selection process.
- The outcome of the Formal Complaint must generally be notified to the candidate within 25 working days of receipt of the request for review. If the investigation does not produce a decision within this time, publicjobs must keep the candidate informed of the status of the review and the reasons for the delay.

For further information on the above Review and Complaint procedures please see the Code of Practice for Appointments to Positions in the Civil and Public Service which is available on the website of the Commission for Public Service Appointments, www.cpsa.ie

Requests for Feedback/Test Rechecks

Feedback in relation to the selection process is available on written request. Feedback and rechecks may be requested for up to six months after completion of each stage of the competition. However, please note that the Review Process as set out in the Code of Practice is a separate process with specified timeframes that must be observed. Receipt of feedback/recheck is not required to invoke a review. It is not necessary for a candidate to compile a detailed case prior to invoking the review mechanism. The timeframe set out in the CPSA Code cannot be extended for any reason including the provision of feedback and/or the outcome of rechecks.

Contravention of the Code of Practice

Any person who contravenes the above provisions or who assists another person in contravening the above provisions is guilty of an offence. A person who is found guilty of an offence is liable to a fine or imprisonment.

In addition, if a person found guilty of an offence was, or is, a candidate at a recruitment process:

- they will be disqualified as a candidate and excluded from the process;
- where they have been appointed to a post following the recruitment process, they will be removed from that post.

Unreasonable Conduct Policy

An Unreasonable Conduct Policy is in operation in publicjobs. Information on the policy can be found on the publicjobs website.

Civil Service Capability Framework Administrative Officer

Overview

The Civil Service Capability Framework for Administrative Officer will be used as a basis for selection for these roles. The framework was developed based on extensive research and consultation and supports the Civil and Public Service in building the workforce of the future. Our ambition is to attract, empower and develop a diversity of people, with the capability and talent to collaboratively deliver excellence, on behalf of our government and the people of Ireland.

Exploring and strengthening capability requires consideration of the whole person. The framework builds on the competency-based approach and considers a wider variety of factors that may influence performance, including: behaviours/past experience, skills, strengths, knowledge, values, motivation and interests.

There are four broad Capability Dimensions within the framework: Building Future Readiness, Evidence Informed Delivery, Leading & Empowering, and Communicating & Collaborating. These Dimensions are further broken down into Sub-Dimensions (see below). Please note that your expertise in your chosen specialist role, will be assessed throughout the process and in particular, under the area of Leading with Specialist Insight.

The full Capability Framework for Administrative Officer, may be viewed on publicjobs.ie (click here).

There are a number of performance indicators and key skills examples listed within each Capability Dimension. A wide variety of indicators are included under each area, in order to provide more scope for identifying capability in different ways, and to allow candidates with different types of experience to demonstrate their strengths and capability.
